Course Overview

The HLT33115 – Certificate III in Health Services Assistance (Assisting in Nursing Work in Acute Care) is designed for individuals who work under supervision and delegation as part of a multidisciplinary team in community, home, or residential care settings. These workers follow personalised care plans to provide person-centred support to individuals who may need assistance due to ageing, disability, or other conditions.

These individuals are responsible for their own tasks within the limits of their job role and delegation. They possess a combination of factual, technical, procedural, and some theoretical knowledge necessary to provide effective person-centred support.

The skills gained in this qualification must be applied in accordance with Commonwealth and State/Territory legislation, Australian standards, and industry codes of practice.

To complete this qualification, students must undertake at least 80 hours of practical work, as specified in the assessment requirements of the units of competency.
